About the COIL International Project for the Academic Year 2025-2026

Collaborative Online International Learning (COIL) responds to this need by integrating international collaboration into the curriculum. It enables students and educators from different countries to engage in co-designed, co-led projects through structured online interaction.

COIL initiative jointly undertaken by students from BSS B.Ed Training College (Alathur, India) and the University of Girona (Catalonia, Spain).

Through this process, students not only deepen their understanding of the subject matter but also develop essential transversal skills such as cultural awareness and sensitivity, adaptability, empathy, recognition of cultural differences, communication strategies, and self-awareness.

This International Project is continuing for the second academic year preceded the academic year 2024-2025 where our student-teachers gained knowledge in tune with the objectives of the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) between the Institutions. In continuation of the quality Initiative, the International Project is proposed to commence for the academic year 2025-2026 and the formal symposium was held on 3rd June 2025.

The Learning Objectives of the COIL:

- Foster intercultural competence by encouraging students to engage with diverse educational and cultural perspectives through collaborative international learning.
- Enhance English language proficiency, both oral and written, by engaging students in structured, formal communication tasks related to the development of an educational presentation.
- Develop strategies and pedagogical resources for supporting language acquisition in multilingual and multicultural classroom settings.
- Promote critical reading and reflection through the analysis and discussion of texts relevant to education and intercultural learning.
- Encourage reflection on teaching practices by comparing and discussing educational systems, classroom methodologies, and teacher roles across cultures.
